On behalf of the Canadian Global Exploration Forum, I welcome all the delegates to our Annual CGEF Conference. We have changed our format, dates and venue to accommodate the numerous international delegations visiting Calgary for the Global Petroleum Show (GPS), and to offer a better opportunity for Oil and Gas exploration and production companies to connect at Canada's largest oil show.

In keeping with our Mission, this year CGEF has organized a conference focused on the changing landscape of international E&P highlighting where experience, opportunity and financial markets combined will reinvigorate international E&P industry.

The CGEF Directors and Advisors have worked tirelessly to make this conference a success. Special recognition is owed the Conference Committee, who delivered this conference by June 11, 2018 to be in time for GPS. The Conference Committee, has organized both an amazing one day CGEF Conference, and worked with GPS to deliver an outstanding 2.5 day International Country Market event; hosting high level delegates with opportunities from around globe. In addition, CGEF is hosting the Clean Tech pavilion to promote new innovations for our industry.

CGEF Sponsors are essential to this event, adding incredible value, expertise, and a wide range of international experience in support of CGEF's objectives to promote our Canadian industry to the globe. In addition, I thank our event planner dmg Events for their support.

The past four years has been a challenge for the oil and gas industry, yet we are seeing a light at the end of the tunnel, with oil prices currently hovering between $60 - $70/ bbl, and demand steadily increasing. Doors are opening to numerous opportunities, companies are once again positioning for growth, and expanding into new areas; not only to test new technology but to promote and embrace renewable energy sources and utilize Clean Technologies

Financing for our international E&P companies continues to be a challenge. On a positive note, it is getting easier now to justify exploration and development in areas that were not economical a few years ago. There are many advantages for companies to seek international opportunities as they are not faced with some of the challenges in our domestic industry, although, operating in other countries comes with different challenges, requiring patience and hard work to navigate the political and cultural differences which usually results in success. Canada continues to bring its expertise in anticorruption laws, setting precedent on how we operate in other countries, along with regulatory excellence and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).

NEW! Global E&P Video Series

Global Dynamics & Opportunities in the Emerging E&P Cycle

CGEF recently launched the Global E&P Video Series - a set of 6 videos that feature presentations and panel discussions by industry leaders on the challenges and opportunities for Canadian E&P companies. Produced from CGEF's Annual Conference in 2018, the series is released every month and Episodes 1 - 4 are available to watch now at www.cgef.org under our Media Library.

CANADIAN GLOBAL
EXPLORATION FORUM

Become a CGEF Member

CGEF has been created for the benefit of Canadian companies operating, or considering operating in the international oil and gas business. Your Company's membership and support is both needed and appreciated, because it is instrumental in maintaining a cohesive network of oil and gas companies. It supports CGEF in its efforts to promote the strengths of the Canadian international oil and gas industry and the interests of its members.

CGEF is the only registered Canadian organization that serves and promotes Canadian-based International oil and gas companies. CGEF members meet every 2nd month for lunch talks/networking and once annually for an international conference in Calgary. Full membership is restricted to E&P companies.
